

THREATS TO HEALTH

Asst. Prof. Dr.Pongmada Damapong Public Health and Health Promotion
College of Allied Health Sciences
Suan Sunandha Rajabhat University

THREATS TO HEALTH

Working environment refers to everything that surrounds a person while working, may be people such as Workers, employers, sick people, animals such as cows, buffaloes, germs, objects such as machinery, chemicals Energy, such as happiness, sound, Wang Si, social psychology factors, such as working hours Compensation for shift work These environments may or may not pose a hazard to workers. an environment that has the ability or potential will harm the health of the working people that Threats to health

Group of work-related disorders and occupational diseases caused by Existing physical health threats in the work environment Which can be divided into 4 major types : Physical, chemical, biological and psychological threats

PHYSICAL HEALTH HAZARDS

01

loudness

02

heat

03

light

04

coolness

05

vibration

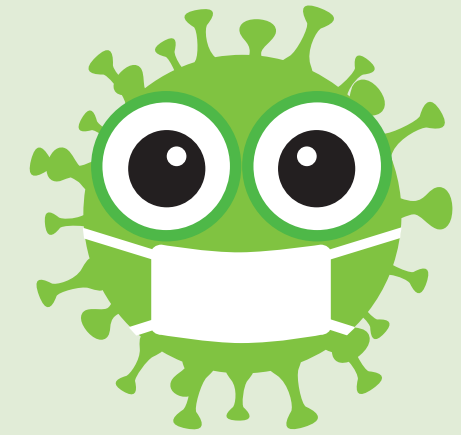

CHEMICAL HEALTH HAZARDS

gas and vapor

Particle
group

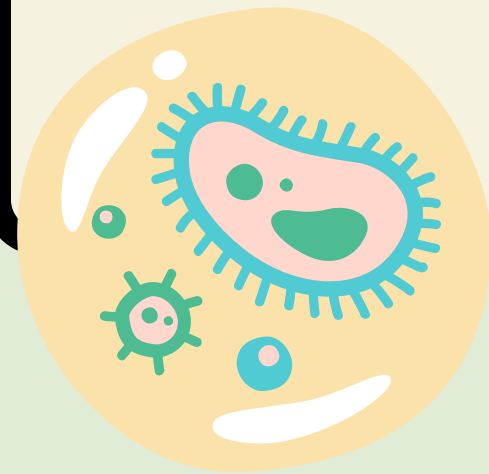

BIOLOGICAL HEALTH HAZARDS

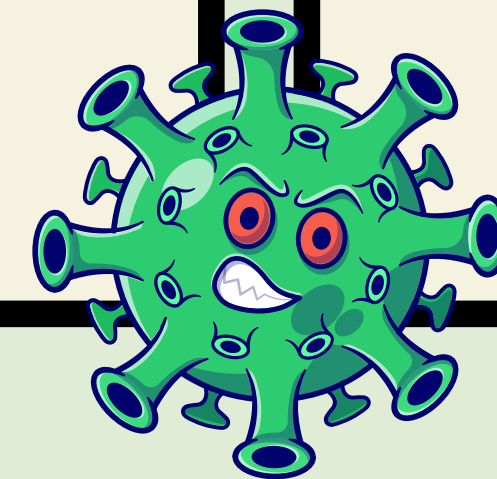

disease
caused by sporozoa

viral disease

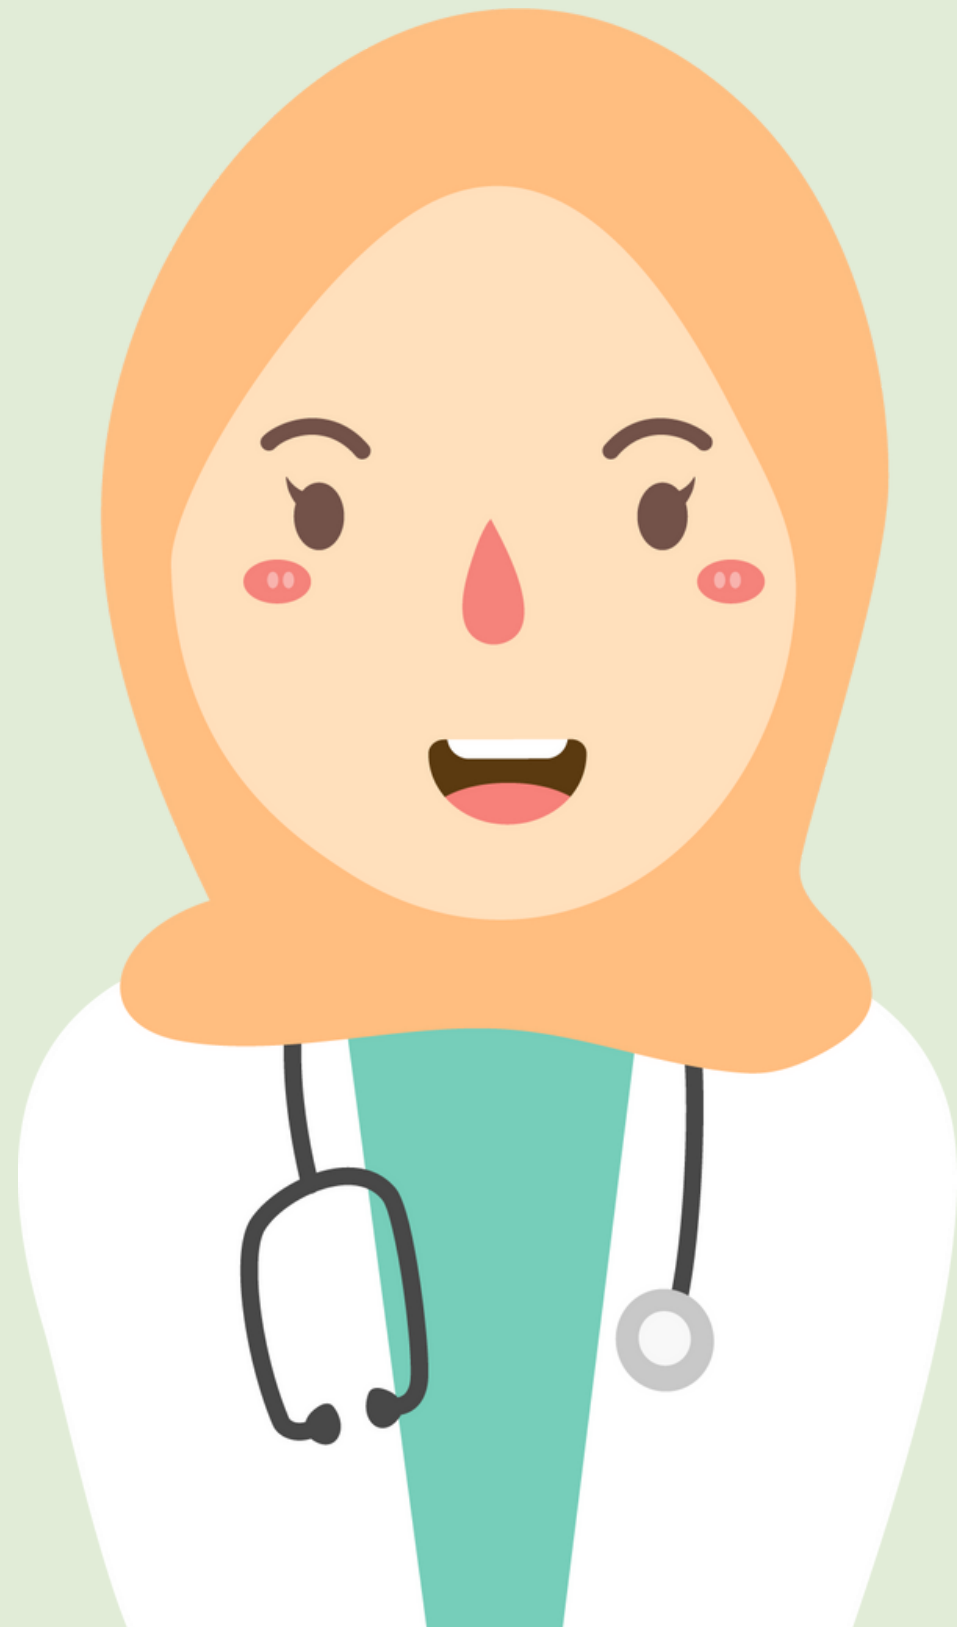

rickettsia
disease

bacterial
disease

PHYCHOSOCIAL HEALTH HAZARDS

- Physiological effects
- Effects of work stress on physical health
- Effects of work stress on mental health

THANK YOU

